THE SOUTH AND THE PRESIDENT.

The old question why should not the Democrats nominate a Southern man for president has been revived again.

The New York Sun which has no love for either the Democratic party or the South, is quite lavish in the expression of its opinion in regard to the matter.

We present hereewith what the Sun has to say:

"It is not the fear of a revival of sectional animosity that prevents the Democrats from nominating a Southerner for president. It is the want of political courage and political common sense on the part of the Democrats South. Hard words to States once so famous for statesmanship and leadership, so gifted in political genius, so proud and so powerful in conventions. Hard words, but true. When the South ceases to be the obedient servant of the whims of the rest of the Democratic party, when there is a healthy opposition in every Southern State, when the South gets tired of following humbly at the heels of Democracy, then it may secure the nomination of a Southern man for president. But the number of Southern Democrats in public life who are worthy of the presidency is not likely to increase while the present conditions of repression and subserviency continue."

As far as the Democrat party is concerned, the Sun is not to be trusted, and its advice, especially to the Southern Democracy, is not that of a friend and well-wisher.

The above was utilized by the Sun simply for an opportunity to insinuate a slur against the force of character of the Democrats of the South. There is no truth in the charge that it is a want of political courage that prevents the Democrats from nominating a Southern man for president, and there is very little in the suggestion that they are deterred by a fear of the revival of sectional prejudices. The reason that Southern Democrats have not been nominated to the presidency is because the South could always be counted on as solid under all circumstances, and it was deemed expedient to nominate candidates with local strength in important doubtful States.

SAD DROWNING NEAR DYERSBURG.

Dyersburg, Tenn., June 14.—Three children of one family were drowned in the Obion river near here yesterday. The mother had gone to the river to wash and took the children with her. One of them playing near the bank fell in and she attempted to rescue the child. The others would follow and in their fright two more got into the water. The frightened mother was unable to rescue any and all drowned and she herself was barely saved by an older daughter. The bodies were all recovered but too late to resuscitate them.

IN THE RANKS.

In a letter to Senator Allen, Populist leader, Col. Bryan reiterates his determination not to accept a nomination for Governor of Nebraska, and says: "I have no personal ambition to serve. There is no office to which I aspire. I am not only content to do the work which I am now doing, but I believe that in this way I can accomplish more for the state and the United States." This seems firm and self-sacrificing, but it presents an invitation to analysis. The Governorship of Nebraska, honorable position though it is, is hardly the place for a twice nominated candidate for President of the United States to accept. Colonel Bryan has been rather extensively in the business of running for the Presidency. In connection with that high position it may be said that a man may have no aspiration, but at the same time not renounce the office if elected to it. Rather than see his country in the confused position of having no Executive head the Colonel would take it.

STOP MY PAPER!..

Last Friday she came down the street three steps at a time and sailing into our office like a whirlwind. She waited for no ceremony, but wildly said:

"Is this the paper printing office?"

"Yes, madam."

"I want to stop my paper."

"All right madam."

"Stop it now, too."

"It's stopped," said the editor, as he drew a mark across her husband's name on the subscription list.

"There now," she said with a look of satisfaction in her eyes, "may this will teach you some horse sense and how to do the square thing next time, and not slight people because they are poor. If some rich, stuck-up folks happen to have a bald headed, knock-kneed, toothless brat born to them you're awfully hungry to put it in the paper and make it out an angel, when poor people have a baby you can't say a word about it, even if it was the prettiest baby that was ever born. That's what I'm stopping the paper for."

She marched out of the office as mad as a wet hen, and didn't say whether she had a baby or not.—Wickliffe Yeoman.

TRAGEDY AT FULTON.

"UNLOADED" PISTOL GETS IN ITS WORK AND JAMES ROPER IS KILLED BY HARLAN
SOLOMON,

Fulton, Ky., June 15.—A shooting affray occurred at Fulton, in which James Roper, a prominent young farmer of near Fulton, was fatally shot in the temple by Harlan Solomon, his son-in-law. He died at 1:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The shooting was accidental and no blame is charged to Mr. Solomon.

The affray occurred in the rear of Phipps' jewelry store and was witnessed by only four people, who relate the details as follows:

Harlan Solomon had entered the store with a 32 caliber Smith & Wesson revolver to sell it to the repairer. A revolver was also handled when snapping the gun. No one knew exactly what was in the gun. The gun contained a cartridge which was discharged, entering Roper's right temple and lodging in his brain. He died at 1:35 o'clock, most of his brains oozing out.

When Mr. Solomon saw what he had done he fled in great alarm and almost collapsed from the mental strain.

Mr. Roper was about 20 years old, and was married about a year ago. He had a wife and a young child, besides several relatives.

Mr. Solomon also is a prominent farmer and assisted Mr. Roper with his crop this year.

MORE MEN.

Paducah, Ky., June 14.—James D. Watson, of Graves County, State Senator from the First District and private secretary to Congressman Charles K. Wheeler, announced to-day as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner to succeed L. Fleigher Dempsey. There is a rumor that State Senator MacD. Ferguson, of this city, will shortly announce his candidacy for the place. Other candidates are Judge Dempsey, the incumbent; Webb Bell, of Hopkinsville, E. B. Samuels, of Hickman.

MEMPHIS MORNING NEWS.

After several days of delays, and breakdowns the new Memphis Morning News has been issued officially and is now issuing a first class newspaper. Its local news covers Memphis and special correspondents in all the Memphis territory and gives the news of this section.

The telephone service is superb.

The Memphis Weekly News will open May 28th, and run Wednesday thereafter. Send for sample copies of the daily and weekly.

FINE PROSPECTS.

Wickliffe people are very jubilant over their oil. More oil came out last Wednesday than all put together before and the flow is constantly increasing.

They think success is no longer problematical and expect a fine gusher as soon as they get through the rock they are now in.

A Louisville Courier-Journal oil expert is on the scene and he claims it is one of the finest oil prospects he ever came in contact with.—Cairo Telegram.

In justice to Mr. Oliver, it should be said that he is not the man who is fanning the embers of the last Cleveland Administration. He is not a "ruler" in the sense of being a dictator or despot. He does not even show receptive symptoms. He is a man of hard sense, and knows that at the present stage of the world's development he is not nominated by the fanciful newspaper paragraphs rather than by deliberate causes of the men who would be active against their government.

At the work of 1904, the Democratic party is now simply clutching large quantities of atmosphere. It will doubtless be ready for real business in due time.

EQUALITY IN TAXATION.

Equalization is the chief point in the assessment of taxes. The cash value of the property is the standard usually fixed by law, but as a matter of fact most property is actually assessed at considerably less than the strict legal requirement. Sometimes there is a tacit understanding that the property is to be assessed at only 75 per cent of its cash value, sometimes the figure is only 66 2/3 per cent, or even less. It makes no difference if it were put at 25 per cent, if all were assessed upon that basis. As the percentage of valuation decreases, the rate of taxation will of course increase.

FILTHY TRIBLES IN INDIA.

Sacred cows offend Indian temples, but worse yet is a body of people polluted by constipation. Don't permit it. Cleanse your system with Dr. King's New 2000 Pils and avoid untold misery. He gives you active, nutritive bowel movements, fine appetite. Only 25c at Cowgill & Cowgill's drug store.

FAVORS STATE PRIMARY.

(Elizabethtown News.) The good news came from Frankfort that the state central committee is seriously considering the question of a state primary to nominate the ticket next year. The people want a primary and it will not cost the candidates if they are allowed to hold it. If we can get rid of the unfair convention method with its dangers to the party and shut off the wind of the ballyhooers who like to be seen and heard, we are willing to guarantee that the primary at Hardin will not cost one cent. We are satisfied that there are enough patriotic democrats in Kentucky to hold a primary election as officers without co-operation and in any county where there are not enough there are some men who will put up the necessary expense. A democratic ticket nominated by a state primary would be elected by 40,000 majority.

My little son had an attack of whooping cough and was threatened with pneumonia, but for Chamberlain & Conagh Remedy we would have had a serious time of it. It also saved him from several attacks of croup.—J. Strickland, editor World-Herald, Fair Haven, Wash. For sale by Cowgill & Cowgill.

POPULAR ELECTION OF SENATORS.

Senator Vest has a hulking henchman straight in the jaw who is the spokesman for the election of U. S. Senators by the people that "when the time comes for the people to be protected against their own government, be active against their own government." If the people can't elect honest and competent Legislatures, they can't have a good government, and that's all there is about it. This is a point not commonly discussed in the press in regard to conventions and in Congress, looking to the election of Senators of the United States, popularly popular. It appears to be taken for granted that the Legislatures are so wicked and unfit that they should not be trusted with the vast powers of legislation. And the amendment states have been giving great municipal corporations, handling a system of taxation, &c.

The South African war is over and the coronation will soon be a thing of the past. The United States and Great Britain will be able to resume discussion of fine points about the Alaska boundary line. Or, perhaps, Great Britain will yield everything in dispute for the sake of our friendship.

THE HICKMAN COURIER,

GEORGE WARREN, Editor.

HICKMAN, KY., - JUNE 20, 1902.

Charleston to Hickman.

The Enterprise says that an electric railway is to be built from Charleston, Mo., to Hickman. When the levee is built on the Mississippi opposite Hickman, the kind of railroad will easily be built in that part of Missouri. The Scales continuation of the levee now built over there will fit it opposite Hickman, and the money to build it is included in the appropriation by Congress. Therefore, that levee should be built this year, and the railroad should immediately follow.

A State Primary.

It is said that the State Democratic Committee will enter a primary election to select a Democratic candidate for Governor, and also the nominees for other state offices. If a legal primary is held under the state law, the ticket will be elected by 40,000 majority easily. The party don't want, and can't stand, any more Mass Hall conventions, and if we hold State Conventions there is no sure way to guard against a repetition. A legal primary is rather expensive throughout the whole State, but we should like to see it tried one time.

River Commission Meets.

The Mississippi River Commission is to meet in St. Louis, June 23rd. At this meeting the allotments to the different levee companies will be made, and the work apportioned for the year. The Hickman and Tiptonville Levees is entitled to $200,000, but whether it will all be allotted for use this year, not, remains to be seen. Hon. R. T. Tyler made a speech at Capt. J. C. Harris will attend this meeting in the interest of our levee. Whatever amount is allotted, whether the whole or a less amount, we are assured that work will be commenced at Hickman this year, and pushed to the full amount of the money allotted. After the commission meets, Capt. Winslow, the engineer in charge, will advertise contracts for 30 days and the work be let.

WOMAN F. M. SOCIETY.

Cayce, Ky., June 17, 1902.
The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Conference will convene June 26th, 27th, 28th at Fulton, Ky. It is desired that each society be represented in the Union City District. Mrs. Kate Reeves, District Sec.

FOOD IN SLOT MACHINES.

Philadelphia's automatic lunch counter is doing a thriving business. It was opened on Chestnut street a few days ago, and since then crowds have flocked to it daily.

Around the four sides of a large, square room, running from the windows fronting on Chestnut street are slot machines, the entire contents of which are inclosed in glass. Before you drop your coin in the slot you see the machine drop a piece of food, with the exception of the liquids. Should you want a cup of coffee, coco or tea, you drop in your nickel, place your cup beneath the spigot and get your coffee. On a shelf close by are cream jugs and sugar bowls. The beverages a glance behind the scenes discloses are kept by the aid of cold pipes.

The cold food, such as sandwiches, pie cakes and buns, are lowered on an air current from the receptacle in the slot machine, the receptacle being fitted with the desired tid-bit. All the ordinary purchases has to do is lift it off and eat it easy. The only difficulty seems to be to keep it tall for while the customer is off dropping his coin into the slot some equally unscrupulous fellow may take his place. "This will be all he needs when the novelty wears off and we are in a good running order," said the manager.

The slot lunch machine is by no means a complicated arrangement. For several years it has been operated successfully in Germany.—The Inter Ocean.

ARREST OF MISS LEE.

That the arrest of Miss Mary Curtis Lee, daughter of Gen. Robert E. Lee, by the authorities of Kentucky, was a source of regret to those who were body doults. Miss Lee, though unwittingly, plainly violated the law providing for separate cars for the two races when she would not, after information, enter into the car reserved for white persons. She was arrested for colored passengers. No excuse could be made in her case without violating the law and the conductor who caused her arrest failed to do what he did, he would have had to violate the regulation for a proper separation of the railroads. Miss Lee herself recognized this and very properly regretted the occurrence. She made no secret of her ignorance of the law which went into effect only about ten days previously. A wonderful example of the wisdom of the Virginian to the memory of the embarrassing father was a result of the embarrassing incident. The whole population of Abbeville, South Carolina, have shown their admiration for her fine son. Miss Lee has gone to Ravensworth, Fairfax county, where she is the guest of the widow of Gen. William H. F. Lee.

THE QUESTION SETTLED IT.

Ernest Pomeroy, who knows the Virginia "darky" like a book, was discussing his characteristics the other day, and told the colored uncle living in one of the lower counties, Virginia died last week, leaving a small estate, and that in the will which he left there was made a rather peculiar disposition of the property. Instead of leaving it to his wife, who died before him, he left it entirely to more distant relatives. The colored Uncle said, "I wonder if his father died before him, and he died before the wife, so the will was influenced while mentally unsound."

While counsel for the contestants was unable to prove the facts supporting the allegation, an old colored man who had intimately known the deceased from boyhood, was called and said he knew the will was good to eat. The contestants won.—Philadelphia Record.

KANSAS TIME PIECE.

A good joke on the people of Burlington, Kan., is told by one of the papers. The time train on the Missouri-Kansas and Texas passed through Burlington every morning at 6:30 and the people have grown fond of the habit of getting up at 5:30 to look at the timepiece. Trains ago an extra passed through at 5:30 and the entire population got up an hour sooner than usual.—Ex.

In Revenge.

"He told his wife she ought to take cooking lessons."

"Did she?"

"Well, yes, she sent for her mother to come and give her a three-months' course,"—Cassell's Journal.

Example.

"You ought not to smoke right before the children, Henry," exasperated Mrs. Chinner. "Can't you see that you are setting them a bad example?"

"Oh, that's alright, my dear," replied her husband, easily, "If they follow your example of carrying pins in your mouth they'll never live long enough to be harmed by my example."

It was in the far South.

"How's times?" asked the tourist.

"Pretty tolerable" stranger responded the old man who was sitting on a stump. "I had some trees to cut down, but the cyclone leveled them and saved me the trouble."

"That was good."

"Yes; and then the lightning set fire to the brush pile, and saved me the trouble of burning it. Remarkable! But what are you doing now?"

"Waiting for an earthquake to come along and shake the potatoes out of the ground,"—Chicago News.

"There is only one place where an American is content to have another above him, remarked Bellingshaw to Gildersleeve.

"And where is that, I'd like to know?"

"In the upper berth of a sleeping car,"—Detroit Free Press.

W. H. LEECH ATTACKED BY CHICKEN SNAKE.

(Mayfield Messenger.)

Mr. W. H. Leech, one of the best known and most venerable citizens of Wingo, reports an unusual encounter he had with a chicken snake Saturday.

He was on his way to the barn when he felt something tugging at his ankle. Thinking it was a halter he carried, he paid no attention to it at first, but finally looking down he discovered that it was not the halter, but a five foot chicken snake. It was encircled about his ankle four times, and in required some high-class gymnastics, accompanied by vocal stunts or unusual merit before the reptile was dislodged. He soon dispatched the snake with a plank, when the mate appeared on the scene of action.

Another battle ensued, whereupon Mrs. Leech came to the rescue and fired six shots into the snakes body. This was not enough, but a load of shot finished the reptile. The snakes were unusually large specimens of this harmless variety, measuring about five feet.

COSTLY NEST FOR RAT.

From a double handful of scattered pieces of green paper Maj. J. F. Finney, the head of the subscription in New York, is trying to determine whether the government owes the paper's owner a sum or nothing.

The fragments are all that is left of a hidden store of greenbacks which V. H. Lavigne of Riverside, N. J., found the other day in a barn he had just bought. He was looking over the building when a big rat jumped across his feet. He took the hole it had come out of and looked back. To his amazement he saw a large pile of bills flattened out against the sides of the hole, as though the rat had been nesting on them. He reached in and pulled them out, but they fell to pieces in his fingers. Mr. Lavigne brought the pieces to Maj. Finney for redemption. He thinks they are worth about $5,000. It is possible, however, that the money is too badly torn to be worth anything.

NOT DAMAGED.

Damnation of infants has been stricken from the Presbyterian confession of faith. "We believe," says the new article as reported by the committee, "that with the exception of the damned, all dying in infancy are included in the election of grace and are regenerated anew by Christ through the spirit, who works when and where he pleases."

Mrs. LAURA TALBOT ROSS.

Both North and South have followed with interest the story of Laura Talbot Ross, the young woodlark of Louisville whose sympathy for the lost cause made her burn her ears when she was asked the question, "Are you marching through Georgia?" The result of the tumult is the abandonment of the Louisville schools of all songs and music, with the exception of the study of the Civil War may be stopped. The Confederate veterans and their sons, jointly at Owenton, have applauded the act of Mrs. Ross, and have invited her to attend their reunion.

CAPTURED TROOPS.

Five of the Fifth Cavalry reported Bolod to Death.

It is Expected a General Amnesty Will Be Declared July 1—This Will Release Filipino Prisoners on Island of Guam.

Manila, June 16.—Friendly natives in Manila say a report is current among their countrymen that the five soldiers of the 5th cavalry who were captured by the insurgents May 20 have been held to death at Teresa in Morong province, Luzon.

Manila, June 17.—The bodies of the sergeant, two corporals and four privates of the 5th cavalry, who were captured May 20 by Ladrones at Binan, have been recovered.

Twenty-five members of a band of insurgents who were captured while fighting with Gen. Lukisan in Samar took the oath of allegiance to the United States and were subsequently released. Four members of the band were killed in the engagement which resulted in the capture of their companions. The 25 who have sworn allegiance have seen Gen. Chaffee and have given him all the assistance in their power in the work of maintaining the peace conditions in Samar.

A commission has been sent to Samar to appoint Senor Llorente, governor of the island and to establish civil government there. It is expected that a general amnesty will be declared July 1. This amnesty will result in the release of the Filipino prisoners now on the island of Guam.

The prospects in the island of Leyte are not encouraging. In the areas of resistance there are lightings, the ports of the island were closed and surrenders of insurgents to the native constabulary have occurred daily.

Gen. Davis, the commander of the American forces on the island of Mindanao, has been informed by Gen. Dado Adams that two of the three Moros who murdered an American soldier named Lewis were killed in the engagement at Baran between Moros and Americans last May and that the other murderer had escaped.

An American sentry belonging to the engineers was badly cut with a bolo in the hands of a Moro while on duty near Vicar.

Serious Datton, under the suzerainty of Spain, carried off Col. Frank D. Baldwin of the 27th Infantry and have asked for American flags. This action on the part of the Davies is considered equivalent to taking the oath of allegiance to the United States.

A CLOUDBURST.

Calars Flooded and the River Rising at Scranton, Pa.

Scranton, Pa., June 17.—A terrible cloudburst occurred here Monday morning, flooding canals and causing the river to rise in a threatening manner. Rain is still falling heavily and should it keep up, at the present pace, the water will be high enough to reach many of the mine openings.

Charles Robinson, the Delaware & Hudson watchman, who was shot at Oliphant Saturday night, will recover. He is unable to throw any light on the mystery as to who did the shooting. All he can say is that he felt a stinging sensation in the breast and then lost consciousness.

The coal company continues to cause arrests of strikers who molest the miners. A magistrate Monday fined four men $2 each for threatening workmen.

WIND AND RAIN STORM.

Property Damaged at Richland, Ga.—Merchant Killed By Lightning.

Columbus, Ga., June 17.—A terrible wind, rain and electrical storm did considerable damage at Richland 33 miles from here on the Seaboard Air Line Monday afternoon. J. M. Hurley, a local peach merchant, was instantly killed. A peach merchant, who was standing under a shed, his wife, who was near him, was severely shocked. The stores of Mayfield & Bell, W. E. Etheridge, B. W. May, T. S. Chapman and the large Clegg building were damaged. The trees and stocks almost ruined by wind and water.

The new school dormitory, the Negro academy, the Methodist church, the new Christian church, the residence of Ed Woodard were blown to the ground. Numerous small houses and shops were destroyed. Rooted and gardens and crops were ruined. The peach crop suffered greatly.

SIXTH WEEK OF STRIKE.

There Are Very Few Disturbances in the Anthracite Region.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 17.—The sixth week of the anthracite coal miners' strike began Monday without a ripple to disturb the calmness of the situation. Rain fell nearly all day, which helped to cool the miners down or at starting time in the morning. It was expected that Monday would witness the refusal of a large number of fire houses and other mine houses to go out, but there is no information available that any of the miners who quit was not large. In fact, several of the mining superintendents in this region asserted they had more men at work at the engines and pumps than they had last week.

After the other labor leaders made this assertion, and on the contrary claim that nearly half the men who were at work on Saturday refused to go into the collieries Monday. Neither side gave out any figures.

Capt. Clark, president of the miners' association, came in for some attention by labor leaders Monday. He submitted to an interview in which he said his organization would do all it could to help the strikers.

He said he would make a thorough canvass of the region to learn the sentiment of his men, which will help to guide the national association if the miners should ask the teamsters for help.

There was a revival Monday of the story that the Central Pennsylvania soft coal miners will be called out very soon, but President Patrick Gilday of the Central Pennsylvania miners' association denied the probability of this action. Some of the miners in his region, he said, have already suggested to him that the number of days of work each week be cut down to three, four or five, thus cutting off a considerable supply of soft coal.

No bulletin of the king's health has been issued. His majesty's physicians are merely advising him to keep quiet and to husband his strength as much as possible.

At 10 o'clock today there was a big rally in the premiums on the king's life and upon the chances of his being crowned June 26.

SERIOUS STATE OF AFFAIRS.

Armed Miners Take Possession of Two West Virginia Mines.

Roanoke, Va., June 17.—A number of miners who are returning from the coal fields reached here Monday night. They report a very serious state of affairs in the coal regions of the state, armed with rifles, revolvers, etc., were Monday marching from that section toward North Fork and demand that the miners be paid at once.

They also say that the miners taken charge of Good Will and St. Simon's creeks mines and have announced their determination not to allow the workers to resume work and will resist them or any attempt that may be made by the mine owners to resume work.

TERRIFIED GIRLS.

Several Injured While Escaping From a Burning Building.

St. Louis, June 17.—Terrified by smoke and heat from the burning building received the shock that the St. Louis riding academy and boarding school at Locust street and Channing avenue, 300 girls and 100 men employed in the Franklin Street shoe factory, just west of the school, were set afire yesterday afternoon, sought safety by fire escape and elevator. Through the fall of the elevator and in crowding down the fire escape several persons were slightly injured. The bill authorizes the establishment of reciprocity relations between the United States and Cuba was received after the senate had been seated and the doors were opened, the message was read and the secret session was resumed.

House.—The house passed the irrigation bill to vote, but no money amendments were offered, but only one except those offered by the committee was adopted. It was of a minor character. The bill, however, has passed the senate. The friends of the measure greeted the announcement of its passage with a round of applause.

GOD'S OPPORTUNITY.

It Is Most Perfectly Realized During Man's Extremity.

Sermon by the "Highway and Byway" Preacher on One of the Profoundest Secrets of a Happy and Successful Christian Life.

Text.—"My grace is sufficient for thee; for my strength is made perfect in weakness." II Cor. 12:9.

Paul's Experience.—Here in this world we find ourselves, Paul is here, we touch the extreme of Paul's life, and from the third Heaven in Paradise where his soul was in such transports of celestial joy that he knew not whether he was in the body or out of the body, we find him sitting at the feet which never mortal ear had heard speak—they were so sacred; from that glorious height to which God by special favor raised him, we find him a few moments later, sitting upon the depths of human misery and weakness, as at a time the infinity of the flesh, whatever it was, was obscured, the blessed face of his Lord and shut out of his sight; his life, his all, his experience. That thorn in the flesh, this messenger of Satan, the one plague-spot of his life, the fly of corruption in the ointment of his fragrance, the Christian life. Paul, on his knees in the dust-god of Paul, and he beseeches God, not once nor twice, but thrice, that it might depart from him. Then, like the rift in the dark curtain, like the golden glories of the spiritual sun breaking through, illuminating and transforming that which has been dark and forbidding into a glowing, glistening mountain of light, he beholds the Paul finds in the most intense love and wisdom of God the thorn in the flesh to become all aglow with the glory and power of Christ; that, instead of being a curse, according to his account and repeated petition, it would be transformed and become a subtle softening influence on his life. It is to no longer a thorn of sorrow, but a bright beacon of gladness, and his heart breaks forth in song as he exclaims: "Most gladly, therefore, will I glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me!" How this has become God's golden trumpet good to all men.

The Thorn in the Flesh.—Perhaps there has been no incident in the life of Paul over which there has been more misconception than this thorn in the flesh, and many a brother knows just what that thorn was. As though exact knowledge in this respect would aid in better understanding the example and learning its lesson, I am desirous of the opinion that Paul under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit left the nature of the thorn indefinite in order that the followers of Jesus Christ might realize that their infirmities, their thorns, their infirmities, their infirmities, could be treated in the same way as that of Paul, and become gloriously transformed even as was his. You see if Paul had been explicit, brother, with a similar thorn would be claiming a monopoly of the blessed experience, and "Me and Paul" would be his theme, and many a poor, disengaged brother with a different kind of a thorn in his flesh, would say, "Well, if his is changed, the one with him." A thorn is a thorn whether you find it on a rosebush or a thistle, and the same hand can turn the point of both from painful to tender flesh. So the Lord can deal with all thorns in the flesh and transform them into ministering influences.

Paul's undoubtedly was a desperation, but it was a divine stroke, a stroke born nations as tax the utmost power of Christ to help him bear it. As Paul, under the direct inspiration of the Holy Spirit, was made to declare that the thicket of sinners in order that he might possess the thorn as a sample of the saving power of Jesus Christ, so in his thorn he gives encouragement to all similarly afflicted. If the Lord was able to transform his thorn if he was unable to remove it, the liberations made by his insect point, then there is hope for you and me, and we can "come with boldness to the throne of grace and obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need."

These thorns are present in every life to a greater or less degree. A thorn in the flesh is an irritating influence or circumstance in life, any bodily infirmity, any physical or painful hurtful limb or disease. These may be classified under two divisions: Thorns of a permanent character, such as physical infirmities, weakness, and temporary thorns of daily trials, difficulties, burdens, persecutions, etc. Paul's thorn was undoubtedly of a permanent character, but his experience has its application to the temporary, petty thorns of the daily life. It is the little foxes that spoil the vines, and it is not so often the great thorn which pierces the day and destroys the whirling clouds and tempests of the hand.

This experience of Paul is for you, and if you will but learn his secret you too can rejoice with him because the Lord is with you, and you can make that thorn, big or little, a means of grace and the stepping-stone to more consecrated, efficient service.

Persistent Prayer.—With those goading him to bear it, Paul finds rest in the Lord, the Christ, who rests in the time of darkness, strength and difficulty. Three times he goes to the Lord and pleads his case. How many hours and days of agony and darkness are included in the three times that Paul sought the presence of the Lord; he does not say; certainly is that Paul was not hasty-uttered prayer, no rushing into the presence of the Lord and a rushing out again to some task of tent-making to make up the time next.

With his eyes closed shut and just one request on his lips he pours out his soul before his Lord in anguish of pleading. The one-request prayers into which all the intense desire of one's being goes, are those which reach the ear of God. "Lord, if Thou wilt, Thou canst make me clean." "Lord, that I might receive my sight." See the various attitudes following each with open palms, the lips for the supply of some supreme need. The leper, the halt, the lame, the blind, the centurion for his servant, the ruler for his daughter, all claim the same right, the cry was never failed to reach the Master.

Paul goes over his whole case with the Lord, he opens up his heart to the Divine love and sympathy, he makes his request known, he makes but does not demand, and Paul's heart is filled with a heavy heart and darkness all about him. No light from God. No answer. All Christian, is this your experience? Have you pleaded your one request before the Lord in your clearest, loudest, most earnest voice? For God is made perfect in His weakness. The seeming defeat on the cross, the seeming failure of the resurrection, the seeming defeat of the church, for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth."

Man's Extremity God's Opportunity.—And "God's strength is made perfect in weakness," which means that God's opportunity is given to us when we are at the lowest point of our existence. "The heart is deceitful above all things," and "we ask, and receive not, because we ask amiss (without at first consideration of it), that we may consume it upon us." We are in darkness, but he knows the troubles within himself and not with God. With David we can exclaim: "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted in me? Hope thou in God; for I shall yet praise Him for the help of His countenance."

Again Paul seeks his closet and again he unburies his heart before God. As he waits there before his Lord his heart is cleansed from self-righteousness and desire and his will is brought into harmony with the will of his Lord. Perhaps he is too near the danger he was in of getting out of prison, perhaps of the needy world through his constant dwelling in the third Heaven experiences. This is one danger which besets the deeply spiritual to-day. We need to be in the flesh, to be in the world in the riches he was not willing to give up; but across the lake of Galilee, in the country of the Gadarenes, He comes to the end of his strength and in answer to his cry gave him deliverance. The thief on the cross who came to the end of himself and turned to Christ for help soon found himself in the hands of the Romans. The thief on the cross who stubbornly refused to recognize the Christ, but had passed into darkness and eternal death. In the one man's death he lost his opportunity, in the other, man's extremity worked for him his own destruction.

The helpless sinner at Jesus' feet raised up a cleansed and saved soul to be a light to a nation and the world can help him. Man cannot step from his own sufficiency into the Kingdom of God. He must realize a desperate need. His cry must be, "Lord, save me, for I perish." The Christian at Jesus' feet, who has been made perfect, will teach you, and will tell you, that he sees that the thorn in the flesh is given, "lest you should be exalted above me, through the abundance of the revelations."

Paul went out from the presence of the Lord at that second seeking refreshed, yet humbled. The thorn is gone. There is joy in his heart, and the man who has no light is sorely buffeted. There is joy in his heart, and his power is made perfectly flawless. Then we go out singing with Paul: "Most gladly, therefore, will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me."

Strength Made Perfect.—There is a strength beyond strength made perfect and strength made manifest. The thorn in the flesh, simple, clean, draws its nourishment and obtains its rest under her sheltering protection, and thus her strength is made perfect. If the Lord were to do it, he could not do it more skillfully than through the abundance of the revelations made by his insect point.

The Lord sent us to get back into our closets a third time and hear the sweet tones of our Master: "My grace is sufficient for thee; for my strength is made perfect in weakness."

Day by day we are to be made perfect that God's strength was made perfect in his weakness a new source of joy was opened up to him. Ah, how that the thorn in the flesh became dignified and glorified when the blessed Christ burst upon his spiritual vision.

Paul emerges from the gloom of his physical infirmity into the glorious light of the presence of his Lord, the King of kings, the Christ, who is a thorn, but has become the ever-present presence of the grace and power of God. This is your privilege, too, and mine. The thorn in the flesh, the daily trial and disappointment, the gathering crowd the blinding effort, is struggling with the criminal who desperately seeks to obtain his freedom. The officer subdues him off to his prison and hustles him off to the court. Here is strength made manifest.

Here is the little acorn with the strength of the mighty oak within the sheltering walls of it this thorn, protected, the swelling, throbbing pain, the rain, and the wind, its roots downward the trickling stream below, nature's own strength continue to find their perfection in the submissive will of the tree. The darkening sky in the west, the gathering storm, and as the whirling clouds and tempests sweep violently by, lo! we find our great oak lying low before us and realize strength of nature has been made manifest.

He is a human life through which God longs to pour his strength and power. As long as that life is subservient to the flesh, the flesh is the food is made perfect in that strength. The instant that life seeks its strength, and a way, contrary forces are set to work. It may prosper in the ways of the world. "Behold, these are the ungodly who prosper in the world; they are rich in raiment, and are full of their prosperity, they are wealthy, I have learned to say with David: "Verily, I have cleaned my heart in vain, and washed my hands in innocence."

He is transformed by the power of God, is enabled David as he says, "To walk before the Lord in righteousness, which comes from the indwelling Christ, and he makes cheery reply. Not a word about his weary strength, but, "I am strengthened to praise the Lord, He垂死的 Christ, Yes, and when he comes He will find one soul at least watching for him, and rejoicing in present infirmities because God's grace is sufficient for him, and God's strength is made perfect in his weakness."

DISCOVERY OF NERVOCIDINE.

A Powerful Anesthetic That Is Made from a Plant Which Grows in India.

A new local anesthetic obtained from an Indian plant called "basudha" has recently been submitted to scientific examination by some Hungarian dentists. The preparation of this substance was discovered a year ago by a dentist in Plumbe—Dr. Dalmat—who tried the effect of basudha in cases of painful pulpitis, and recommended it as a local anesthetic agent for the extraction of teeth that might replace arsenic in the treatment of that condition, says the Pittsburgh Gazette. Dr. Dalmat also explained the active principles of the extract, which he had isolated, and in his later experiments he used the salt obtained by treating the alkali with hydrochloric acid. This salt is now named "nervoCIDine." In weak solution (one to 20 per cent.) nervoCIDine proved to be a most powerful anesthetic of the cornea of warm-blooded animals. Two drops of a 3-29 per cent. solution applied to the human eye caused complete anesthesia of the cornea accompanied by hyposensitivity followed after 20 minutes of anesthesia of the cornea lasting for five hours. After seven hours the cornea regained its normal function. A 1-19 per cent. solution of the extract of the bark caused local anesthesia of the brushtooth surface and of the tongue, accompanied by loss of the sensation of taste and the perception of heat and cold.

Attempts to produce local anesthesia by subcutaneous injections of nervoCIDine in animals have not yet been successful. The great action of nervoCIDine on the sensitive membranes of the skin is due to the action of a poison, producing death by paralysis of the motor centers of the nerves. All the experiments proved that nervoCIDine is a local anesthetic agent which has the active principle which had the active principle which cocaine, for the effect of a one-half or one-fifth per cent. solution of cocaine is not so strong. It is, however, not without its disadvantages, such as the local irritation to which it gives rise, the slow production of the anesthetic state (from ten to 20 minutes being required) and the accompanying nausea, vomiting, salivation, and other symptoms of general poisoning.

Patent Leather Has Rival.

Vogue with Dull Finish Are Now in Fashion for Dress Occasions.

Dull finish shoes are to take the place of patent leather for fashion-able wear. The change is made perfectly for, and the news of it will bring a smile to many a woman. Men don't care for dull finish, but women who wish to be stylish must have shoes and slippers of dull-finished kid. Sometimes the dull-finished kid shoes have perforated and fanciful ornamental tips.

STRIKERS AGAIN RIOTING.

Attempt to Start Electric Cars Was Cause of Demonstrations.

Pawtucket, R. I., June 16.—The presence of 700 armed men sent by Gov. Kimball to restore order had little influence except in the central parts of Pawtucket Sunday, where the soldiers fired into the air. In the early afternoon rioting broke out anew in the suburbs and spread to the neighboring city of Central Falls. The resumption of the electric service which had been abandoned since Thursday was said that before the usual car traffic can be resumed it will be necessary to place the cars in the yards and park at Cumberland, Lincoln and North Providence under military control.

To do this an increase in the number of troops will be necessary. It was demonstrated that the cars could not be stopped by the present condition. The tracks were obstructed and cars were piled with stones by the mob, not only in the suburbs of this city, but in Central Falls. Missiles struck many of the men, some of whom were injured and rolling stock was damaged.

About 2,000 people gathered around one car in Central Falls and their attitude was so threatening that a machine gun was loaded and two companies of the militia were sent to charge the crowd. The car proceeded but the line was later abandoned. The marines then marched through the city and at another point the machine gun was made ready for action when it became apparent that an outbreak was imminent.

VENEZUELAN REVOLUTION.

One of the Most Formidable That Has Arisen There in Years.

Washington, June 17.—In well informed circles here the question of the impressiveness of the revolution which is at present threatening President Castro of Venezuela, is perhaps the most formidable of any that has arisen there during the past few months. The revolutionaries can be confined to their movements to outlying towns and kept away from the central points of administration, such as Caracas or the city of Valencia. It is thought here that there is no possibility of their success for the opponents of the Castro administration.

If the revolutionists fail in their purpose this is believed the accomplishment of their aim can be regarded as a mere disappointment.

To do this an increase in the number of troops will be necessary. It was demonstrated that the cars could not be stopped by the present condition. Marion, Ind., June 17.—After a desperate battle between local officers, in which 30 or 40 shots were exchanged in a chase of nearly a mile, Lon Henderson, a desperado criminal, was captured in Indianapolis for various offenses, was brought to Marion, Ind., and suggested that the barbers had probably shot him.

"No," said the barber, "I have other ways of finding out such things." "Yes," admitted the customer, "your hands are not necessarily fatal." Lon Henderson is known to the Philadelphia Record. He astonished one of his customers the other day by saying he was a desperado.

The man admitted he had probably shot his victim in the ear, which indicated that he was aiming at the heart. "I am not a knave," he said, "but I am a fool." He was captured by Capt. Hyland, burglarizing the Fisher Building, and by Patrolman Bell, who came to Hyland's assistance. The burglar escaped but left a trail of blood behind him.
